CAMPAIGN: WELLBEING

We have launched 4 new quarterly content campaigns for 2022. Within each campaign we will publish a broad range of articles, reports and webinars which examine the topic in depth.

WELLBEING

1st January to 31st March.

Open for content submission from 14th December - content deadline 15th March.

Articles can cover any of the topics below but are not restricted to these topics.

Workplace: Have you created a workspace which positively supports the users' wellbeing? Would you like to tell us the ways in which hybrid working can impact employee wellbeing? Do you manufacture workplace products which can improve employee wellbeing?

Employee: Do you have an opinion on why it's important for management to address employee wellbeing? Have you instigated a model within your business which supports the wellbeing of your team?

Hospitality: Do your products improve the wellbeing of hospitality guests? Have you design hospitality spaces which positively support the guests' wellbeing? Would you like to share your knowledge on how wellbeing is being addressed in the hospitality sector?

Mental Health: Does your business actively support the mental health of the members of your team?

Biophilia: Have you specified materials specifically because they can improve the users' wellbeing? Do you have knowledge on how light, sound and material selection can impact a users' wellbeing?

Knowledge: Have you published a report or white paper which looks at wellbeing?
